

Big Write – Friday 5th October

Recently we have been reading alternative versions of traditional fairy tales. This week in Big Write we would like the children to write a mixed up version of Red Riding Hood and The Three Little Pigs. Please remind your child of the original stories of Red Riding Hood and The Three Little Pigs. If you have versions of these at home it would be great to re-read them. Below are a series of pictures which we will be using as a plan for our writing. Please talk to your child about the order of the pictures and how the two stories are mixed together.
